

WYOMING FREE LIBRARY VIRTUAL READ ALOUD EVENT

During these busy months, when was the last time you cozied up with an old, favorite children's book? The Wyoming Free Library is offering you the excuse to do just that, while advertising your business AND making a tax-free donation to support the library and your neighborhood readers.

Our board members invite you to sponsor the next Wyoming Free Library virtual read aloud event. Your donation of $100 will secure a guest virtual reader visit. All you need to do is dust off that old book jacket and find a cheery location in your place of business to introduce yourself while recording your read aloud.

Are you a chef? Perhaps you would enjoy reading Eric Carle's Walter the Baker while keeping one eye on the oven. Do you run a childcare center? Show off your warm, inviting classroom to potential new clients while sharing Kevin Henke's delightful story, Lilly's Purple Plastic Purse. Are you in construction? Take a camera to a (safe!) location on the job and share Donald Crews' Trucks. Don't worry, we can provide you with a reader if you and your employees are feeling camera shy. ☺

For less than a traditional advertisement, you can support the Wyoming Free Library and the patrons who rely on its services while reaching perhaps 15,000 or even more* new customers.

The Wyoming Free Library is proud to have continued supporting patrons during these challenging times through our virtual author discussions, and we hope that you will help us carry this important work forward as we embark on our summer reading journey with a theme of Tails and Tales.

We are excited to hear what you choose to read and look forward to your participation in another one of our record-breaking virtual read aloud events. Please return this completed form with your $100 sponsorship and we will then get in touch with you to discuss the details of your virtual read aloud. This event will go live on July 5th!

Please contact John Roberts, Executive Director, at the Wyoming Free Library by phone or email with your questions.
